- Faculty Travel Activity Report

PURPOSE

The primary purpose of Faculty Travel Support is to provide funds for UM faculty members to take part in development activities that will lead to new or extended research, scholarly or creative work.

Five primary types of activity are supported, in descending order of priority.

1. CFreePO Visits: Visit funding agencies or individuals with discretion or influence over funding decisions — may include meetings with Program Officers to discuss an idea for a new proposal or proposal resubmission or to learn about anticipated upcoming funding initiatives, or attend grant writing workshops, etc. If in doubt, ask ORSP if your proposed trip is a good fit. Maximum of one CFreePO grant/faculty member/year (independent of any other ORSP Travel grant types received that year).

2. UMMC Visits: Visit potential or current collaborators at the Medical Center campus in Jackson. Funds up to $100 per visit towards mileage or car rental costs only. Maximum of four UMMC visits/faculty member/year (independent of any other ORSP Travel grant types received that year).

3. SEC Institutional Visits: Faculty members who have received an SEC Travel Grant in the previous fiscal year may apply for follow-up ORSP funds to continue a collaboration established by that SEC Travel Grant visit. Maximum of one SEC grant/faculty member/year (independent of any other ORSP Travel grant types received that year).

4. Other Individual Visits: Visit academic institutions, regional or national facilities, research collections, libraries, or sites — may include proposal development, setting up new collaborations, learning about funding opportunities, examining original sources or material evidence, collecting documentation, conducting interviews or surveys, utilizing or evaluating special collections, or other scholarly or creative activities. Maximum of one Other Individual Visit or one Organized Event per faculty member per year (independent of any other ORSP Travel grant types received that year).

5. Organized Events: Attend organized seminars, workshops, meetings, conferences, or other group activities aimed at professional development, training, or continuing education — may include networking with potential collaborators, project/proposal development with other attendees, discussions with funding agency officials, learning a new technique or application, consulting with expert advisors on a new method or approach, or other professional or project development activities. Maximum of one Other Individual Visit or one Organized Event per faculty member per year (independent of any other ORSP Travel grant types received that year).

• Hard deadline of 15\textsuperscript{th} of the month preceding the departure month, via InfoReady Review Portal
• Hardcopy applications will not be accepted.
• If you do not hear back that your grant was approved, do NOT assume that it was approved—it wasn’t, and it is possible that we never received it (sometimes they get stuck in your Dean’s office and don’t make it over here)
To enhance collaboration that stimulates scholarly initiatives between universities, this program offers faculty members from each SEC university the opportunity to travel to other SEC universities to exchange ideas, develop grant proposals, and conduct research.

ORSP-IG: Investment Grants

Pilot program stimulate sustainable, competitive research and scholarship by:

• facilitating preliminary data collection for funding applications
• improving grantsmanship/increasing competitiveness for grants
• facilitating collaborations among diverse scholar/researchers
• providing opportunities to mentor/supervise students in research—especially undergraduates and all students from underrepresented groups
• promoting scholarly activities aligning with UM strategic goals and initiatives
• supporting activities that lead to the advancement of UM faculty/researchers
ORSP-IG: Inspired by UM2020 Strategic Plan

In UM2020 Strategic Plan, UM committed to:

- “stimulate interdisciplinary study and research”
- “increase support for graduate students in a variety of ways”
- “increase individual and collaborative research, scholarship, and innovation”
- “devise strategies to increase success in garnering competitive grants”
- “engage in a disciplined investment strategy supporting research/scholarship”
- “strengthen the rigor and impact of ... internal grants aimed at increasing individual productivity and programmatic growth”

http://um2020.olemiss.edu/
Intellectual Merit (20%): The proposal appears to demonstrate potential to build upon and advance established knowledge—expressed in a way that educated lay readers can understand the project at a high level.

Soundness of Plan and Reasonableness of Request (20%): Does the project seem doable with available resources (personnel, time, equipment, money)? Is there a realistic timeline? Is the budget sufficient but not excessive to achieve the stated objectives? Is it clear what the funds are being spent for and why? Will funds enable activities not possible without this grant? Is the request reasonable given other resources that should reasonably be expected to be available to the proposer/team?
Grantsmanship (10%): The clarity of the proposal in conveying the goals, objectives, activities, and outcomes. Is the proposal easy to read by educated lay readers? Is it professionally written? Well organized?

State or National Impacts (10%): Do proposed activities align with and advance high priorities of U.S. national interest and documented goals and initiatives of the State of Mississippi, including the MS Science and Technology Plan, Blueprint Mississippi, the MS Development Authority, the MS Energy Institute, and/or MDA target industries?

The Mississippi Science & Technology Plan:
http://research.olemiss.edu/MissScienceAndTechPlan

The Mississippi Energy Institute:  http://www.mei.ms

Mississippi Development Authority Targets:
ORSP-IG: Review Criteria (previous rounds)

Institutional Impacts (20%): Will proposed activities demonstrably advance institutional goals, including those in the UM2020 Strategic Plan or the Extended Sensitivity and Respect Committee recommendations? (e.g., create a culture of research excellence related to race; increase the role of graduate students in research and innovation; increase collaborative research, scholarship, & innovation; increase success in garnering competitive grants; stimulate undergraduate research)

Development Impacts (10%): The likelihood that this project will lead to a research program that will be self-sustaining (e.g., competitive for external grants and contracts) and/or that it will help the applicant achieve promotion.

Measurable Objectives (10%): The proposal establishes objectives and is likely to achieve outcomes that can be independently measured one year out and three years out. (e.g., submit a proposal to sponsor that is recommended for funding, etc.)
ORSP-IG: Review Process

- ORSP seeks volunteers from the UM research community and beyond to read, score, and provide feedback on proposals according to established review criteria and using a corresponding rubric provided by ORSP.

- Depending on the # of volunteers, each proposal will be independently reviewed and scored by 3 to 5 individuals, most or all of whom will not be experts in the discipline(s) of the proposing individual/team, but many of whom will be experienced in writing competitive proposals.

- ORSP will review/compile the scores/feedback, select the awardees from among the highest scoring proposals, and return the reviewers’ scores and feedback to all proposers.
ORSP-IG: Awards and Requirements

- Awardees are required to sign an award agreement with ORSP
- Funds are transferred to a new research account under the control of the PI
- Awardees are asked to submit an abstract for a poster or 3 minute lecture at the annual UM/UMMC Research Day
- Awardees must submit mid-term and final reports to ORSP
